a. SAES-RELATED INITIATIVES

ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- DIS has established mandatory training for facility security officers (FSO's) and plans to phase in certification.
- DoDSI has completed the outline for a DoD Adjudicator's Course under OSD auspices. This course will complement the Community Adjudicator's Seminar sponsored by CCISCMO.
- DoDSI initiated in 1986 a three-week course for DoD Security Specialists.
- Member agencies have been canvassed concerning foreign travel procedures and SAES is collating this information to develop a model program.
- A speaker's list, a catalog of training aids available through the military, and a handbook of limited quantity training products held by member agencies are being developed.
- The annual Security Educator's Seminar was held at Quantico, Va. during the week of 2 November 1987. A total of fifty educators attended. This year's featured speaker was novelist, Tom Clancy, whose Thursday evening presentation was attended by FBI Director Sessions.

PLANNED:

- Development of additional courses, a model security awareness program, a computerized data base of security training materials, and a program to identify gaps in the availability of training materials are underway through DoDSI.

PROPOSED :

- Establishing national training responsibilities for the DoDSI; an ISOO proposal to this effect is under review at the NSC.
- Implementation of a program at DoDSI to create an "adjunct faculty" of security specialists to train other security specialists in briefing techniques.
